'Money Store' deal imminent, officials hoping

■ Over a year after it was expected, a development agreement for an office project at Raley's Landing may soon be ready for city council approval

By Steve Marschke

Developers, landowners and city redevelopment agency officials are hammering out the language to what they hope is an agreement which will bring a "Money Store" headquarters to the West Sacramento Riverfront. The agreement has been delayed for over a year, and remains the key obstacle to the Money Store's development of an office complex near the Tower Bridge.

"This is a situation where until there is a 'done deal,' all the parties are somewhat skittish," said Les Bowman, program manager for the city redevelopment agency. "We're still working out the details of the language and still drafting the documents."

Anticipating that all parties will agree to the final deal, the city has planned to present the final development agreement to its planning commission on Nov. 16 for a recommendation. The agreement would then go to the city council for approval.

The Money Store, a major player in the lending and financing world, plans to build a 370,000 square foot office at the Raley's Landing site, just north of the Tower Bridge on the West Sacramento riverfront. It would be the first building in what civic leaders hope to be a major, upscale construction boom along the river.

> Les Bowman

Partnered with the office complex would be a 1,400 car garage. The Money Store has an agreement to purchase seven acres, or about a third, of the Raley's Landing project, and that transaction remains in escrow pending the adoption of the development agreement with local government.

McCuen Properties is the proposed developer.

The development agreement being written includes about a dozen major points, said Bowman.

"In general terms, it is the use of a tax increment generated from the site itself. This project is generating its own tax increment. If Raley's Landing doesn't develop, there's no financial incentives for them."

Bowman explained that some of the taxes generated by the developed site would be rerouted from local governments back to Raley's to reimburse it for money it has already spent to prepare the site's sewer, water and road systems.

The developers must begin work on at least a 300,000 square foot version of their office project within five years to take advantage of the tax incentive, said Bowman, although they actually plan to break ground much sooner.

"We have every reason to believe they will start construction next year," he stated.

Besides the Money Store site, the Raley's Landing site includes zoning provisions for other offices, apartments, commercial development or a hotel. The city recently received a state grant to study just what kind of a hotel West Sacramento's waterfront might support.

"The study could tell us what type of hotel, what price rooms, what amenities are appropriate for this location and for the whole riverfront," said Bowman.

He said that a hotel might be a good bet as the next development to follow the Money Store into Raley's Landing.

The city also plans mixed use construction to the north at Lighthouse Marina and to the south (between the Tower Bridge and the US 50 freeway bridge in the "Triangle" region) along the riverfront. But so far, the pieces have not fallen into place for any of the planned new city downtown along the Sacramento River.

OLG water found safe by county

By David Weller

Students and nuns at Our Lady of Grace School and Convent have been told that their well water is safe for drinking.

The school, located on Linden Road near Jefferson in Southport switched to bottled water two weeks ago after initial test results from samples taken from their well showed unexpected high levels of radioactivity in the water prompted. County officials took the precautionary measure of warning the school away from drinking the water.

Follow-up tests done by the state of California and by a second private lab in Colorado showed background levels of radiation to be normal for the area, according to the county's Director of Environmental Health, Thomas To.

To could not explain why the first samples showed high readings, but is satisfied that the two independently taken follow-up tests are accurate.

Because levels of background radiation are normally low everywhere in Yolo County except for the UC Davis Campus, testing for radioactivity is not required by the state.

According to To, the original sample was taken and sent to the lab for testing of chemicals in the water, a test which is routinely done every two to five years.

The lab tested for radiation without being requested to by the county.

Boy is found

An 11-year old mentally disabled boy reported missing after he stepped off a school bus near Greenmeadow and Pine on Monday afternoon was found early Tuesday morning in good health.

"He was on top of a local motel," said Lt. Ron Moore of the West Sacramento Police Dept. "He had apparently spent the night there."

Moore said there was no apparent foul play involved, and that the boy, Jeremy Allan Coates, was recovered in good health.

He was located about 7:30 a.m. Tuesday at the West Capitol Ave. location.

Popular school administrator takes leave of absence

By David Weller

Long-time school district administrator, Dr. Sarah Taylor, is taking a two year leave of absence in order to accept an appointment as a "visiting educator" with the State Department of Education.

Taylor has been Washington School District's Director of Categorical Programs for several years. As director, she oversaw about 16 district programs which are not funded by the district. Categorical programs receive special funding from state or federal sources.

The shuffling of school administrators the district has done in order to fill the position Taylor is leaving behind has not set well with all the members of the district's governing board.

In executive session, the school board voted three-to-two in favor of shifting two elementary school principals and one teacher in order to fill the position.

Following Superintendent Dr. David Miller's recommendation, the board voted to appoint Nancy Brynelson, the former Principal of Westfield School to take Dr. Taylor's place as Acting Director of Categorical Programs and Special Projects. Ruben Reyes, former Principal of Alyce Norman School was appointed Principal of Westfield. And Lisa Hayes, Math Specialist at Alyce Norman was appointed Acting Principal of Alyce Norman.

"My vote did not reflect any lack of confidence in the people chosen to fill the positions. Some of us felt strongly that there was another way to handle it without causing a major disruption at the schools in the middle of the year," said board member Ardene Westvik, who cast one of the two dissenting votes.

Nancy Candee, the second minority vote, concurred with

Neighbors, police joining forces locally

From Marna Miller

The Maple/Holly Volunteer Crossing Guard Project was given support by West Sacramento Police Reserve Officer Shawn Soylor, shown here with Sandra Cruthers, Terry Enim and Marna Miller.

Going door-to-door seeking sign-ups, Cruthers continues her project's goal of creating "Safe Streets Now" with the aid of Neighborhood Watch and residents joining forces.

W.S.P.D. Lt. Ron Moore, Lt. Dave Farmer, and Lisa Cox, Community Services Officer, have been helping the community solve its problems for the past few years. Joint effort is the key with the emphasis on "effort," so more sign-ups are sought for one or two hours a day, a week, or per month for relief duty.

Call Lisa Cox at 372-2461 to inquire.

Long-time member of West Sac economic committee steps down

By David Weller

A founding member of West Sacramento's EDAC (Economic Development Advisory Commission) Phil Crawford, has announced that he is leaving the commission after eight years.

Crawford said he is leaving for primarily professional reasons, but he is also interested in working having more latitude in the future to work on economic issues in West Sacramento.

"I'm beginning a career in computers, and it's taking a lot of my time. But down the line I'd like to be able to work on economic issues I couldn't address on the commission. Some of my concerns have to do with the port, and bridges. They tend to cross a number of commissions, so its hard to take positions while your on EDAC," he said.

> 'My vision of Southport would be a community of housing and high end commercial. . .'

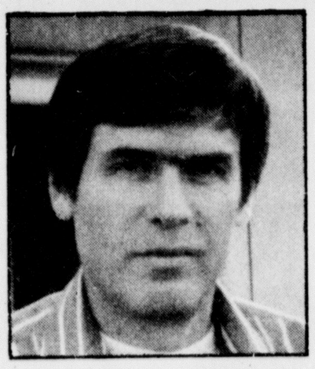
Crawford was not ready to discuss his views on the port or on bridges to Southport for publication in this article. He would say, however, that his vision of the future of Southport includes high end residential and commercial uses, golf courses, and use of the deep water channel as a fresh water recreational and boating center.

"My vision of Southport would be a community of housing and high end commercial use that would take full advantage of our water resources," he said.

All that's required is a child-like leap of faith

My Back Pages



By Daryl Fisher

A few weeks ago, the Rev. Billy Graham brought his five-day crusade to the sports complex at Sacramento's Arco Arena. The well-known evangelist is 76-years-old now and his health is beginning to fail him, but from all reports, the crusade was a huge success, attracting over 160,000 believers. The event had a $1.45 million dollar budget, but most of the cost had been defrayed before the crusade began. Offerings averaging about $100,000 were taken in nightly, but there was no price of admission except for a $5 parking fee. In other words, the event pretty much paid for itself and unlike the Jimmy Swaggart's and Jim Bakker's of this world, it looks like Billy Graham can be trusted with the family silverware.

I have watched the Rev. Graham for years on television and maybe the most attractive part of his message is that it's always the same. There's not a lot of fire and brimstone, just a simple, down to earth appeal for all of us to get our act together before the Second Coming of Christ, which Mr. Graham believes isn't all that far off. For over 50 years he has also been relentlessly preaching what many of us already suspect, that the world is slowly going to hell in a hand basket. He reminds those who attend his crusades that war, drought and famine continue to sweep the world, and that excessive drinking, drug use and violence is everywhere. He decries everything from the present state of race relations in this country to the afternoon talk shows which fill our heads with garbage. He pleads for his listeners to come to Christ before it's too late, before Judgment Day arrives, and then he explains the apparent simplicity of that whole process. One needs only to accept Christ as his Lord and Savior, and to do so publicly if possible, much like the first disciples of Jesus did a couple of hundred years ago. One is then born again and his or her life is forever changed for the better.

"Would you like to go out to Arco Arena with me and my family to watch Billy Graham preach tonight?" a friend of mine who was visiting from Los Angeles asked me while the crusade was in town.

"I don't think so," I said, thanking her though for the invitation.

"If nothing else it might make a pretty good column," she said.

"I try never to talk about religion in the column," I said.

"Why is that?" she asked with seeming interest.

"Because I'm afraid that something I might think is funny would only offend someone who is very devoted to their faith."

"I bet you can't give me one example of that."

"Sure I can."

"Like what?"

"Well, like Woody Allen believes our souls don't really go to heaven -- they just end up in a big warehouse somewhere in New Jersey."

When she didn't smile, I immediately tried to change the subject, but she was determined to find out why I didn't like Billy Graham. "But I do like him," I explained with sincerity.

"Then why don't you want to go see him preach?"

"Because preachers scare me," I admitted.

"Why?"

"Because they're probably right."

"Well, if they're right, then why don't you just admit it and get saved so I can see you someday up in heaven?"

"But it's not that easy," I said.

"Sure it is."

"No it's not. There's all this logic and reason I'd have to find something to do with."

"You can't think your way into heaven, Daryl," explained my friend, slowly shaking her head. "It requires a child-like leap of faith. It says so right in the Bible."

"I know that, and I'm working on it," I assured her.

"Well," she said with conviction, "if I was in your shoes, and getting as old as you are, I'd get a move on it!"

Later that evening, as I sat outside looking up at the night sky, I admitted to myself that one has to be pretty stupid to be an atheist (I mean, something or somebody had to put all of creation into motion) and pretty wishy-washy to be a fence-sitting agnostic. I also thought about how great it must feel to be someone like Billy Graham, who is so sure of what he believes.

And then it dawned on me that that is probably why so many people genuinely like the man, because in a world where the risk takers are dwindling down to a precious few, and where kids are becoming disposable, and where juries are flipping justice the bird, and where love and concern for our fellow man is disappearing from our body politic, it is truly nice to know that there is at least one guy out there who has lived a life worthy of praise, and who is willing to keep telling anyone who will listen that he is certain that even death itself ends up dying.

The wind in your hair, the bugs in your teeth: joys of a new bike

T.J. Smoot

This summer I started a job in downtown Thacather, and since it was only three miles to work, it was decided by a unanimous decision of me that I was to purchase a new bicycle to commute. It was time to dump my 20-year old multi-source, brown and blue hunk of junk bike with crooked tires for a new, sexy model. I thought commuting to work was considered a noble, almost virtuous goal. Good cardio workout. Melt those extra 30 lbs off in a week. Decrease smog. Be cool...approach perfection in environmentalism. Dare I say it...the thought was almost "Davis-esque." So I went to Target, got a cool looking $89.95 Murray Wonder-Rama Sierra Vista Colorado Rockies Baja Turbo Skyline mountain bike...oh, and a goofy looking helmet. I was so cool. I could just see myself flying by picturesque golden sunsets, rolling down rugged mountain terrains, hurtling over trout laden streams, bounding through golden meadows toward my goal...work. Yuck.

Being the studious intellectual that I am, I made fastidious pains to document my journeys from day one in a hardback notebook. Following are excerpts from this journal. Note that some were written while my heart was still beating 300 times per minute.

Day 1: 7:35 a.m. Hot today.

Raiders drop a game 20-13: so close to victory, and yet so far. . .

By Khaled Dastagirzada
River City High School Football Team

It seemed as if the game against Marysville last Friday night was going the Raiders' way all throughout the night, but the score was the one thing that didn't. The River City Raiders lost to the Marysville Indians by a score of 20 to 13. If the Raiders were to win this game, their chances of advancing to the playoffs would be excellent. But that unfortunate loss has slimmed their chances.

The Raiders started off the game by forcing the Indians to fumble on their first drive, and River City's Randy Byard recovered. The Raiders capitalized on the turnover by putting on a running show that couldn't be stopped. That drive was mostly led by Byard. Josh Castro also had his share of yards when he broke loose for a 16-yard carry. That set up a three-yard touchdown run by Byard. "Great job offense -- way to go," were Coach Massey's comments following that drive. The extra point kick by Peter Santizo was good and the Raiders put seven points on the scoreboard first.

A 41-yard touchdown pass to #28 on the Indians was called back because of an illegal man downfield penalty. He was still able to hurt the Raiders with an 18-yard pass reception. That was followed by a 20-yard pass to #81 and the first quarter came to a close.

Will Welcher, who had sacked the Indians' quarterback on that drive, and the Raiders' goal-line defense came up big when they were able to prevent the Indians from scoring. The Indians did come away with two points when they were able to tackle the Raiders in their own endzone for a safety. Castro had three consecutive first downs with a 12-yard carry, followed by a 20-yard run, and then another 12-yard run, on a fabulous drive that resulted in a turnover. The Raiders put on another descent drive when Gary Herren connected a pass to Jimmy Timas for 20 yards. But that drive -- just like the previous one -- ended in a turnover when Herren was picked off by #85 for the Indians. The half-time score was 7-2 in favor of the Raiders.

The Raiders' defense came out and played the same as they did in the first half when they forced the Indians to turnover on downs. But the Raiders' offense had trouble holding the ball throughout the game when they fumbled on the first play of their drive. #44 for the Indians made the Raiders pay when he ran the ball in from five yards out. The extra point failed and the score was now 8-7 in favor of the Indians. Castro returned the following kickoff all the way to the Indians' 46-yard line. He then carried the ball for 11 yards, but they were forced to turnover again, this time on downs. #22 for the Indians did the damage on their next drive when he gained 39 yards on a screen pass and then gained 20 yards on a run. #81 finished off that drive with a 15-yard touchdown reception. The Indians went for the two-point conversion to try and put a dark cloud over the Raiders, but it failed and the score at the end of the third quarter was 14-7 in favor of Marysville.

The Raiders were down but definitely not out. Herren connected up with Castro for a 25-yard pass. Then Castro carried the ball for 30 yards on two carries, which set up a one-yard touchdown run by Castro. The ball was snapped, for the extra point, but it was fumbled and the Raiders trailed by one, 14 to 13. #44 for the Indians carried the ball for 40 yards on two carries to bring the ball down to the Raider 25-yard line. The Indians drove the ball down to the 5-yard line, and the Raiders' defense came up big again, when the ball was fumbled and Will Welcher recovered it for River City. That gave the ball to the Raiders and Castro, who had been doing well throughout the game, picked up 38 more yards on another carry. The Raiders were held to a 4th and 5 and Castro picked up the first down, carrying the ball for 10 yards. But wait -- a flag came down on the field and that run was called back. It was now 4th and 11 and the Raiders went for it but the pass to Castro was incomplete. A 16-yard run by #22 of the Indians set up a two-yard touchdown run by #44. The extra point failed and the score was now 20-13, Marysville. Herren and the Raiders' offense would try to put the ball into the endzone with 1:18 remaining. The first pass was picked off by #20 of the Indians, and they just ran out the clock to defeat the Raiders, 20 to 13.

It was not a very pleasing night for the River City Raiders, losing a very important game that they should've won. The Raiders are 5-3 (3-2 in league), and they are now put in a must-win situation against Lindhurst, whom they will be playing at River City this Friday night.

BOO!!

The 49ers (5-3) had their trick or treat early this year as the New Orleans Saints (2-6) surprised the Niners with a 11-7 upset victory at 3Com Park last Sunday. The Saints haunted the 49ers the whole game as Elvis Grbac, who was "all shook up," just couldn't get the 49er offense to work.

Elvis played like a "hound dog," throwing two interceptions and throwing the ball away even when he had receivers open downfield. It was a very bad day at the office for the 49ers as both William Floyd and Brent Jones suffered knee injuries. Floyd is out for the year and Jones will be out from two to four weeks! The 49ers are trying out a few players to fill in at fullback, including retired ex-49er Tom Rathman.

The good news is Steve Young should be back to play this week against Carolina as the big game against Dallas is just around the corner.

The Raiders (6-2) were off last week with a bye and head to Cincinatti to play the Bengals on Sunday. The Raiders had a week to heal their players and it looks like QB Jeff Hostetler will return to the starting line-up.

The Atlanta Braves finally got the monkey off their backs by winning the 1995 World Series, beating the Indians four games to two. The Braves' pitching was just too much for Cleveland's hitters. The baseball season is over!!

The Sacramento Knights came up a little short in their bid to win the CISL Indoor Soccer title, losing 10-7 last Saturday in Monterrey, Mexico. The La Raza won the first game in Mexico 12-6, but the Knights bounced back to win 5-4 in overtime at home. The Mexican team, which only lost one game at home, had the league's MVP player Zizinho. He was the difference, scoring 15 goals and 12 assists in the playoffs.

The Sacramento Kings open the '95/96 season on Friday, Nov. 3, at home against the Minnesota Timberwolves. The Kings appear to have improved on paper but still lack a proven point guard and they still have a need for a scoring center! Overall, I think they can make a run for the playoffs!!

See ya next week!!

Last moment kick puts RC frosh over top

By Chuck Robinson

The River City High School Freshman Football Team, in the final seconds of the game against Golden Sierra last week, kicked a field goal to win the game, 21 to 20.

In the first quarter, Malcom Floyd broke free and scored on a 55-yard run to lead, 6 to 0. In the second quarter, Golden Sierra scored to tie the score at 6 to 6. River City's Floyd took the kickoff and returned it for an 80-yard touchdown to lead, 12 to 6. Floyd pulled a leg muscle on the return and was out for the remainder of the game. Golden Sierra scored next and ran the conversion to lead, 14 to 12, at halftime. In the third quarter, Golden Sierra scored and the conversion failed, to lead, 20 to 12. In the fourth quarter, R.C. scored on a 3-yard run by William Snow and the conversion failed and River City trailed, 18 to 20. With time running out and River City in control of the ball, Vincent Baldizan rushed onto the field and kicked a 24-yard field goal to win, 21 to 20.

Dominique Alpers led the offense with 62 yards; Malcom Floyd, 55 yards; Alfredo Rodriguez, 19 yards; Adam Wickliffe, 15 yards; Gilbert Savala, 12 yards; Felix Timas, 8 yards; and William Snow, 6 yards.

Alpers also led the defense with 7 tackles, 3 assists, 1 quarterback sack; Felix Timas, 5 tackles, 6 assists; Brady Tacdol, 3 tackles, 3 assists; Adam Wickliffe, 3 tackles, 2 assists; and Alfredo Rodriguez, 1 tackle, 5 assists.

Freshman league standings are as follows: Colfax, 8-0; River City, 5-3; Golden Sierra, 5-3; Bear River, 5-3; Lincoln, 2-6; and Marysville, 0-8. River City will play Lincoln at home Thursday night; they travel to Bear River on Wednesday, November 8. If River City can win both games, they will take second

News-Ledger Editorial

How far we should go in demonizing the 'johns'

Publicity and embarrassment will both play a role in the city's new campaign against customers of prostitution, in which they will try to scare off the "johns" and crimp the local sex trade.

Police will carry cameras to photograph men they believe have pulled over to talk to the hookers, and may mail information packets on sexually transmitted diseases to the homes of those who are arrested. This may, of course, lead to domestic trouble for married men caught cruising the streets.

But mostly, police hope that the publicity surrounding all of this effort will keep the customers from cruising the streets of West Sacramento for prostitutes in the first place, much like the fear of the department's "sobriety checkpoints" helps reduce drunk driving even before it happens.

Part of the new anti-john campaign could be the publication of the names and/or pictures of prostitution suspects in local newspapers. This has been tried elsewhere, in other communities battling their prostitution problems.

It won't occur in these pages, although the News-Ledger has opined in support of the anti-prostitution campaign as a whole.

The main reason for not printing the names and photos of suspected prostitution customers is the same reason the identities of those suspected of other less serious crimes are rarely spelled out in these pages. These are people who are only suspected of committing a crime, and nothing has been proven in court. There is no compelling reason to identify them as suspects and submit them to this kind of humiliation because of "suspected" involvement in a minor crime.

For every hundred (or two hundred or three hundred men) justly accused will be one man unjustly accused, and there is no compelling reason to tarnish his character and risk breaking up his marriage or disturbing his life by printing his face and his name.

The best policy for a community newspaper is simply to treat suspects in all kinds of minor crimes, and those convicted in all these types of crimes, the same way.

Hazard

I cannot understand the attitude of our city when it puts our children in danger. I called the city to have a look at the curb and gutter in front of Alyce Norman School, as it is cracked in seven places, and has sank down two or three inches in a twenty foot space. This is where the school buses load and unload the school children. When the buses cross it in one place water will even seeps out.

The city came out and put a thin layer of black top over it and rolled it down. Even before a bus crossed it, it was already cracked. I told the man at the time they were putting it down that it would not work. He told me that was all he could do and it would be about five years before it could be done properly. Now, who is going to be responsible for the damage to a bus and the injury to the children if a bus goes through the concrete. I think it is about time someone in this city wake up and do something in a case where our children might be in danger. I am very concerned about this problem and what can be done to correct it.

55 Saves Lives

Tonight a CNN Trivia Questions was "What year did the national speed limit drop back to 55 mph?" I answered without hesitation -- 1973. I knew the month as well -- November. It was easy to remember because that was the year my little world fell apart.

It was about midnight on Friday, October 12, 1973. I was in the middle of the messy job of painting the bathroom. My plan was to complete the whole loathsome task while the kids were tucked in bed. Then I heard a light knock on the door. Startled, I peeked out around the edge of the curtains. When I saw the blinking lights of a squad car in the driveway, my heart started to pound. I opened the door and a polite elderly policeman asked if he could use my telephone. Relieved (assuming I was just assisting the police in some pursuit unrelated to me) I led him to the phone.

At first he talked in brief monotones, shifting his back to me so I couldn't see his face. Then he turned and his eyes met mine. I still remember his eyes so clearly, filled with pity and compassion. Suddenly I knew something dreadful had happened and it had happened to me. He asked a few brief questions to verify my identity. I just nodded, not pressing for any information. I knew by the gravity of his tone that I was standing on a precipice, facing a free fall into some kind of terrible pain. Finally, taking a deep breath, he said quietly, "I'm sorry, your husband is dead."

I remember thinking with great finality, "so this is it, this is how it all ends." It didn't even occur to me that I would go on living. This was a fatal blow. I could not possibly survive. Then I hit the floor.

Of course, like hundreds of thousands of people who have lost their loved ones in freeway accidents...held up by the hands of a loving God...I did survive. In my mid-twenties, with four small children to raise, I had to survive.

My husband (age 33) was a civil engineer en route to Nevada on business for some out-of-state work contracted by his employer. He was driving our camper and his best friend was along to share the driving. His friend had just returned from Vietnam and was still recovering from extensive war injuries; he burned alive in the back of the camper. My husband was impaled on the steering column when he collided with a truck; he lived for 35 minutes.

I only read the autopsy report one time, then I destroyed it. I felt if I allowed my mind to dwell on his multitude of injuries, I would lose my sanity. He stood at 6'5" (a college basketball star) and was so strong and healthy. But he was as helpless as a china doll, crashing at a speed of 65 mph.

In the months and years of grieving, like all survivors, I asked questions that have no answers. What if he had left a little earlier? What if he had left a little later? What if he had stopped for dinner? Did he fall asleep at the wheel? One question I asked a thousand times (to myself and anyone who would listen), was what if he had been traveling at a slower speed? It seemed a cruel irony that one month later, he would have been limited to 55 mph. Would he still be alive?

In 1973, the death rate was 3.7 people for every 100 million miles traveled in California. By 1994, the death rate dropped to 1.5 people for the same number of miles. In good old capitalist tradition, the speed limit was NOT reduced to save lives, it was reduced to save money. The Arab oil embargo forced a change in order to save fuel. For every one mile per hour driven over 55 mph, the average car loses 2 percent fuel economy.

Soon the limit will again be raised to 70 mph. An additional 5,000 healthy children and adults will be added to the 40,000 that die annually. Estimating that each violent death drastically effects the lives of at least ten loved ones, an additional 50 thousand people will be answering that late night knock on the door. A new ocean of tears just because some people want to arrive at their destination a few minutes earlier. It is all such a waste, so stupid, so sad, so final.

Transit

On October 23 at 7 p.m., I attended Regional Transit's second meeting of the month, instead of opting to attend the same-time meeting at our library with our Southport neighbors who are at this time most concerned with the potential adverse effects of a sewage treatment plant being located near their homes.

Under "Presentations by public on matters not on the agenda," I emphasized:

1. The importance of the best location for both sides (of the river) for a new sewage plant or piping the waste down and across the river to Elk Grove. The easiest place to locate the plant just might cause the most stink on the Sacramento side with our prevailing south-westerly winds. (The best spot might just be at some four corners of four large large parcels re-zoned from less valuable "farm" status to more valuable "residential" or "business" or "industrial" or (?). The rationale for this would be that those who would gain most would pay most.)

2. In exchange for West Sac being the good neighbor on locating the sewage plant where it would be far less offensive to the Capitol City, Sacramento should capitulate and work with West Sac to find the optimum location for another bridge across the Sacramento River, no further south than Florin Road (maybe 47th or Fruitridge Road). And since RT is moving ahead to extend light rail south to at least Florin Road, the new bridge should include the light rail crossing and perhaps the sewage piping crossing at the same time. Such planning saves much money.

3. By both sides getting together -- rather than later -- we could scrap the plans for upgrading the Pioneer Bridge and thus save millions of dollars. We would also save the inconvenience of "cul-de-sac-ing" of Park Blvd. at Jefferson Blvd. Obviously, if we had that other bridge across the Sacramento River sooner, we would see construction open up for Southport and that means more jobs and more money for both sides. Less vehicle smog from shorter trips cannot be ignored, either.

Remember, the RT Board is made up of Sacramento City Council and Sacramento County Supervisor members. It is hoped that my input at that October 23 meeting will help cause "the two sides" to get together sooner and more harmoniously to cause the least offensive disposal of West Sac's sewage and cause the best improvement in public transit and public roadways. Everyone wins this way.

Red tape & fees

I went to the planning commission meeting October 5 to support my neighbor Mr. Fredericksen on the split of a five-acre parcel he owns. I was very happy that the commission approved the split.

Before this item came up on the agenda, the St. Anton Partners for the Washington Courtyard Affordable Housing Project came up. The commission was talking about a 90-unit apartment complex at 7th, 8th, E and F streets. The commission was asked to approve a parking reduction, partial waiver of fees and a fee reduction. Maybe the city can afford the fee reductions because they are overcharging the new home subdivisions and the commercial development. But the parking reduction really got my attention. Staff was asking for only one parking space per unit. The city ordinance calls for one space for every 500 square-foot in multi-family complexes. Now I am sure that the one-bedroom units are at least 600 square feet and the complex is made up of one, two, three and four bedroom units. Where are the teenagers going to park? How do mom and dad get to work? Do they ever have company? If the parking lot is full, the people can park on the street. Would this be a possibility if it were a businessman trying to rent a commercial building or a regular developer building an apartment complex?

I expected the two-year-old boy Jeff and the 90-year-old man Marino to accept whatever staff comes up with but I thought the rest of the flock would not follow so easily and pass it unanimously and sent it to city council.

Then I watched on T.V. with amazement when St. Anton Partners Washington Courtyard Affordable Housing Project came on the agenda at the city council meeting. One of the developers of the project came to the podium to praise each and every staff person for their wonderful work on the project. He called them all by their first name, even the city manager. Staff and the developer sure seemed cozy. I guess they talk on the phone all the time; maybe they do lunch. I have called the city manager and the only way I get my calls returned is if I get one of the two responsive and helpful city council members to Go to jail next week in support of March of Dimes

From the March of Dimes Birth Defects Foundation

A temporary jail, going up at 829 Jefferson Blvd. (near La Bou), will house some well-known personalities and lots of community volunteers on November 7, 8 and 9 from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Area residents will have their friends and business associates "arrested" for such heinous crimes as daydreaming, playing too much golf, and the like.

The culprits will do time -- one hour each -- in the March of Dimes "Jail and Bail" benefit, which will help raise funds for the Campaign for Healthier Babies. Volunteer arresting officers will escort the suspects to the "jail" (site provided by Engstrom and Morrow), where they will be found guilty by volunteer judges, including Cindy Tuttle, Mike McGowan, Larry Von Kaenel and Bob Dunham. The inmates, including Dolores Stockton of First American Title, Terry Warford of Dollar Tow, and Rudy Martinez of Martinez Glass, will then spend about an hour raising their "bail" in the form of tax-deductible pledges to the March of Dimes. The jail will be run by volunteers from the West Sacramento Senior Center and a handful of other dedicated individuals.

Other local businesses supporting this "Jail and Bail" include AT&T Wireless, Thrifty, Parks and Community Services, Vince's Deli, City Donuts, Johnnie's Sidewalk Pizza and Freddie's Gourmet Deli.

Each year, over 250,000 babies are born with birth defects in the United States. The March of Dimes is the only national non-profit health organization dedicated to preventing those tragedies.

If you would like to "do some time" or want someone else arrested, call Philip Loney at 922-1913.

ask him to do so.

When asked by Bill Lowell, "if the Bank of America was going to lend five million to the project, the land was donated and the redevelopment agency was going to give three million to the project. How could the project when finished only be worth three million dollars?" The staff and the redevelopment applicant said it was because of tax credits. What do the tax credits amount to in dollars and cents? Are they based on the three million dollars the project is worth when done or is it based on the eight million dollars the project is going to cost? Who is guaranteeing collateral to the bank? Is it the city of West Sacramento? What is the land worth? Is the land really donated? I just can't believe the bank would lend five million dollars on a three-million dollar finished project.

It was also brought up that the city would not collect any property tax. How long will this property stay off the tax rolls? How many parcels of property can the citizens afford to take off the tax rolls? How much effect will subsidize housing have on legitimate landlords? Why does low-income housing need a swimming pool and all the liabilities and insurance costs that go with it? How much more are they giving away? How much does that add up to? The people should be told the extent of this give away. If the bank lent five million dollars and redevelopment three million and say the land was worth one million that would mean it would cost at least $100,000.00 per unit to build. The cost does not stop there. I was told that the low-income units the city just finished on West Capitol ended up costing about $188,000.00 per unit, and there are no four bedroom units. The adding machine tape is still running on this new project. Can low-income people afford to pay the rent, first and last months rent and the security deposit?

This passed the city council unanimously (Hensley was absent). Maybe I do not understand. Maybe I am missing something or maybe I'm not.

It just would not happen in the real world. This businessman does not understand. I think the people of West Sacramento and this businessman need an explanation. I would love to have one or all of the city council give me a call and tell me how this is done. i have been doing business with the Bank of America for over 40 years and I have never been offered a deal like this. The figures just don't jive. Something is fishy. Is the wool being pulled over the eyes of our citizens? Are the citizens of West Sacramento going to get sheared again?

Wake up, West Sacramento. Let's vote them out. Give me a call at 371-1818.

75 degrees and brown skies. Seat real hard. Bike has no shocks. Got sweaty. Changed clothes in men's room. Man came in. I told man I rode bike. Man said he didn't care what I was doing, but he was leaving real soon. 5:18 p.m. Hot today on way home. Work hard. Tired. Saw mirage. I think it was Elvis.

Day 3: 7:38 a.m. Hot and brown skies again this morning. Seat feels like brick. Two blocks and I'm puffing hard. Never noticed 15% grade on our street before. Quads hurt. People at work laud my bike riding. 5:09 p.m. Tower Bridge up. Chance to rest. Sunken boat at I Street bridge still sunken. Lungs hurt. Dizzy. Biking bad idea. Wonder where receipt is.

Day 6: 7:42 a.m. Missed breakfast. Stomach growling. Stopped at 15th & Jefferson light. Smell good smells from Whitey's. Hate Whitey's. Mental note to stop there sometime. Co-workers again laud me. 5:27 p.m. Real tired. On way home, conscientious high school male (defender of Motor Vehicle Code) yelled out "SIGNAL!" after I signaled left turn early. Unsure if admonition, recognition, or suggestion. Didn't look back.

Days 8-9: A.M. Drove car. Parked 5 blocks from work and walked. No lauding at work. Got to work tired and sweaty. P.M. Traffic bad.

Day 11: 7:29 a.m. Rode bike, refreshed after weekend. Air still brown. Immune now. Didn't puff hard until South River Road. Legs don't ache. Saw smushed rooster in road. More lauding at work. Some discussed virtues of bike riding and suggest sainthood. 5:14 p.m. Crossed over I-5 at O street. I-5 big parking lot. Hum tune on way home.

Day 12: 7:39 a.m. Saw guy hopping in hopper at California Dehydrating Inc. Huge cement structure on semi rolled by. Chubby woman in short hair walking on bridge sidewalk asserted her Constitutionally guaranteed rights to not yield to a faster object hurtling behind her. 5:14 p.m. Saw same chubby woman approaching bridge. Beat her to bridge. Happy.

Day 13: 7:36 a.m. Look forward to riding bike. Ride relaxing. Politely and quietly pulled up behind woman on bridge. Didn't want to be rude and scare her with squeaky brakes. Said, "Excuse me. May I pass?" Woman jumped up on one foot and spun around. Saw whites of her eyes. Apologized. Laughed for one mile. 5:16 p.m. On way home Mrs. S. found me and picked me up in van. Nice treat.

Days 18-23: A.M. Head congestion. Sore throat. Fever. Drove car. P.M. Indescribably beautiful fall afternoon all three days. NOTE: Rub throat and chest with smelly vapor rub stuff and ride bike tomorrow.

So call me Biker Smoot. I'm not a radical biker guy with neon green obscene spandex bodywear, but I see the worth in good excercise. I leave with a Smoot Proverb: "He who meditate on bike must remember to stand on pedals when crossing railroad track. Otherwise, he will shake soul." If you don't believe me, try it sometime.

Coach Chris Baker said, "This win gives our program credibility. Our kids have come so far and shown such maturity. Winning on the last play of the game is so thrilling. It was a great team effort."

So was I. Overweight, suffering from chronic fatigue, experiencing hair loss, anxiety resulting in heart palpitations, and poor diet attached to a high stress work environment, blah, blah, blah. . . (Sound familiar?)

Well, today I have lost over 50 lbs., I weigh what I did as a high school junior nearly 18 years ago, the hair loss has stopped, the heart problems have ceased, my diet has greatly improved, and I no longer experience the high stress in virtually the same line of business.

Seniors rule 'Wild Kingdom':

Class spirit soars during 1995 Homecoming

By Mirthala Santizo
Staff Writer

It was that time of year again when all the students became united and cheered as loudly as they could. Homecoming Week is one of the most spirited times of the school year. The classes got dressed up in their class colors (purple, turquoise, orange and green), decorated the quad, and cheered in the morning before school started. This year's Homecoming theme was Wild Kingdom.

The winner of spirit week was the senior class. Second place was taken by the juniors, third place was taken by the sophomores, and the freshmen took fourth place.

"It was pretty good, because people can show their spirit in what they believe in," said Starlett Garcia, a freshman experiencing spirit week for the first time.

"The whole class was united," said senior Shelly Taunk, "We were not individuals that day, we were the class of '96. Seniors Rule. Purple Power."

"It was great, we beat the freshmen." said sophomore class vice president Douangchanh Lattasima, "I think we were better than last year. More sophomores were there in the quad."

The seniors also won the annual class penny drive. The sophomores came in second, juniors in third and freshmen in fourth. All the classes collected a total of $391.50, which will go into the seniors' funds.

On Friday of Homecoming Week there was a Unity Rally where everyone wore blue and gold and the royalty were introduced. After the rally, lunch was served on the football field. The seniors won the rally, sophomores took second, juniors took third and the freshmen took fourth place.

That night the River City Raiders played the Colfax Falcons. The varsity score was River City 28 and Colfax 21 and the score for JV was River City 6 and Colfax 42. The floats were paraded around the football field during halftime, along with all the royalty candidates.

The Homecoming Dance was on a Saturday for the first time.

"I enjoyed the dance because of the good decorating and the D.J.'s choice of music," said junior Adam Medina.

This year's Homecoming king and queen were Seniors Brian Kinney and Heather Mayhew. Queen were Celina Flores, Niki Hussein, Raquel Peralta, and Mirthala Santizo. King candidates were Ty Fisher, Julio Gomez, Zerguy Maazouddin, and Sehn Saelee.

Junior prince and princess were Jimmy Timas and Nikki Novoa. Princess candidates were Tiffany Perez and Sarah Vanderford. Prince candidates were Mark Munsinger and Joe Portwood.

Sophomore duke and duchess were Freeman Keophet and Lisa Galvez. Duchess candidates were Leticia Farris and Shobna Kumar. Duke candidates were Burney Lamar, and Rishi Sharma.

Freshman count and countess were Fernando Garcia and Frances Holman. Countess candidates were Christina Barrajas and Carrissa Nickolie. Count candidates were Ben Ochoa and Dipan Patel.

The senior float consisted of a snake attacking the Colfax falcon defending our end zone. The juniors float was a lion making a touchdown after knocking down the Colfax falcon. The sophomores float was a butterfly with their class color. The freshman float was a tyranosaurus rex with the falcon's feathers falling from its mouth. The junior class won first place, senior class took second place, freshman class took third place and the sophomore class took fourth place.

Homecoming floats and royalty participated in last Sunday's Community Parade. Other groups that participated from our school were the marching band, the varsity and JV cheerleaders and flag corps. The senior float won first place in the parade and the junior float won second. The marching band and the cheerleaders both came in first for their event.

Although Homecoming is supposed to get the classes spirited, some teachers don't like the idea.

Mrs. Hines, math teacher, said, "If you teach a college prep class, then you lose too much instructional time during the whole week. Spirit week should be spirit day."

Dave Brooks, tennis coach, thought that it went well.

Spirit week is a good way to get the school spirited and to have pride in our school. This year's Homecoming was a big success.

Kiwanis sponsors Key Club on RC campus

By Raquel De La Paz
Staff Writer

After a three year absence, the Key Club is back! For those who don't know what that is, Key Club is a community service organization sponsored by Kiwanis. Key Club activities include such things as visits to convalescent homes and working at a summer camp for underprivileged children.

On October 7th the following officers were installed at the Moose Lodge: Alyssa Murphy, President; Raman Bola, Vice President; Tony Venditti, Secretary; and Shawn Bracken, Treasurer.

Although this club is a wonderful opportunity for students to get involved with the community and do a few good deeds, it is having a hard time getting new members. They have even tried to get people to go to the meetings by bribing them with pizza. Moses Cushing, a club member, stated "It's a good way to meet a lot of interesting people who appreciate what you do for them and I don't understand why more people don't join."

If this is the first time you have heard about Key Club, it's not too late. You can still join. Just talk to Alyssa Murphy or contact Mr. Vaught in the office. It's fun and will make you feel really great about what you are doing for the people in your community. You can make a difference!

Class competition is spirited

By Rishi Sharma
Staff Writer

Seniors will have to work hard to stay in first place in this year's class spirit race

As homecoming winds down and we enter the new quarter, many students have begun to reflect upon this years homecoming activities, and what part the classses played in them.

The freshmen amazed everyone, including their class advisors, by showing that freshmen don't have to be quiet and passive. Coming in third place in the float, and showing a lot of spirit, the freshmen are on their way to becoming a very spirited class. However, the freshmen are still in fourth place with spirit points.

The sophomore class has improved 300%. This new, enthusiastic show of spirit is a far cry from the quiet freshmen of last year. Winning Unity Day, and taking second place at the Homecoming Rally and for the penny drive, the sophomores are sure to be competition for the seniors. The sophomores are currently in third place for spirit points, trailing behind the juniors.

The juniors, in a show of artistic talent, brought awe upon their float when they showed the towering Raider lion. The juniors won the float competition and are now in third place with spirit points.

The seniors showed enthusiasm with a lot of construction and flower making going on. The seniors did their work off and on campus, with barely any help from parents. Their snake brought seniors first place in the Founders Day Parade on Sunday, October 22.

The rest of the year looks to be fun and full of spirit. The seniors have a lot of competition, and will have to fight hard to keep themselves in first place.

Raiders overcome injuries, beat the Falcons

By Khaled Dastagirzada
Staff Writer

The River City Raiders faced the Colfax Falcons in their homecoming game. This was a most exciting game with many players having a big impact on helping the team to pull out the victory. One of those players was Angel Cardenas, who had two interceptions and a 69-yard touchdown reception. Angel had made a great recovery from what happened to him in the game against Dixon.

River City had defeated Dixon 45-14, which was great, but two key players were injured in the process

REMEMBERING COREY

By Andrea Alcanter
Staff Writer

On June 21, 1995 Corey Michael Clay died from a massive asthma attack. He is survived by his mother, Edith Allen; brother, Christopher Clay; and numerous friends. Corey was a student at River City High School and would have graduated with the Class of 1998.

IN THE BEGINNING

From the first day I met Corey I could tell he was "just a kid at heart." Corey was always having fun in some 'unusual' way. He was the kind of kid who liked to experiment with different objects to see what would happen if you combined them. If you needed to find Corey, you could always find him riding on his skateboard or bike. Unfortunately, Corey could sometimes be the kind of guy that liked to do somewhat dangerous things and often ended up getting into trouble.

THE MEETINGS

Corey met a lot of people and had many friends, but the ways he met them were always a bit...unique. Here are some examples of how Corey caught the hearts of some of his closest friends.

When Corey met his first best friend, Stephan Grimes, he had just moved to Hardy Drive in Broderick. The ritual for the kids who lived on Hardy was to "jump" all new kids. Stephan was nominated to fight Corey. He went up to Corey, got ready to hit him, when Corey popped the question.

"Do you want to play G.I. Joes with me?"

Stephan, taken off guard, was quiet for a moment. Finally, he came to a decision. After he considered his options he decided, "What would it hurt to say yes? The worst that could happen is that he would become my best friend. What are the chances of that?"

Corey's other best friend, Chris Bluford, also met Corey in a different way. Chris and his brother had decided to go to Elkhorn Elementary School to skate for awhile. When they got to the school, there was this kid with blond hair skateboarding down a slide. When he noticed Chris and his brother watching him, he stopped and smiled.

"Hey, do you want to come down the slide with me on your skateboard?"

Once again, Corey's soon-to-be new friend was at a loss for words. And again the decision was made and Corey made yet another best friend.

Another one of Corey's close friends is a boy named Marc Solorzano. Marc and Corey became friends because of an unusual event caused by Corey. Unfortunately, this was one of Corey's more devilish meetings. Sometimes Corey would teach his friends some of his worst habits. Marc is a perfect example of this kind of meeting.

It started at lunchtime at Golden State Middle School. On that certain day Corey and Marc happened to be sitting at the same table. Also, a cafeteria worker just happened to be standing right across from them. Corey, being the little daredevil he was said,"Watch this!"

With that, he loaded a green bean on his spoon, pulled the spoon back and shot the green bean at the cafeteria worker. It hit her directly in the back of her head. Both of the boys started to laugh. Then Corey told Marc to try and hit the cafeteria worker. Marc got a piece of hamburger from his spaghetti and shot it. Of course, it had to hit her in the face. Apparently, they were never caught for their crime. From that moment on Corey and Marc became really good friends.

BEDTIME STORIES

Corey's bedtime was an important factor in his life. Nothing could keep him from his sleep. This story will prove my point.

For Corey's 14th birthday his mom took Corey to see Aerosmith at Cal Expo. As the concert went through its motions the music got louder and the crowd got wilder. People moved from the bleachers to the ground below. Corey and his mother decided to stay on the now empty bleachers. Edie, Corey's mom, noticed that as the hours flew by Corey seemed to get quieter and less active. A little after 9:30, Edie turned to check up on Corey. There he was lying on the bleachers, sound asleep...

LAST BUT CERTAINLY NOT LEAST...

Corey always brought laughter to those who were sad. He was there for people when they needed someone to listen to them. His main purpose in life was to make sure people didn't forget what it is like to have fun and live the life of a kid. Corey Michael Clay will be remembered by all those who loved him. Tennis team takes the time to teach elementary school kids court basics

By Khaled Dastagirzada
Staff Writer

The summer season went fine for the West Sacramento tennis team and Mr. Dave Brooks who coaches it. The boys team ended with a 2-3 (.400 winning percentage) record while the girls team did a tad better with two wins, two losses, and one tie. But the more impressive part of the summer season was the "act of kindness" part. The West Sacramento tennis team taught the elementary school kids how to play. They walked to the school, picked up about 15-20 kids for tennis lessons, and then walked them back. This would take place every Monday and Wednesday from 3 to 4 pm. Most of the children were from Westmore Oaks, but some of them also came from Elkhorn and Golden State.

The fall season didn't even take place because not enough clubs signed up in the area. So for the West Sacramento team, the fall season was crossed off the calendar.

Just recently, the West Sacramento team helped the City of Sacramento to run its tennis tournaments in return for some of the profits. "There were a couple of huge tennis tournaments on October 7th and 8th and then on October 14th and 15th," said Coach Brooks. Some of the best players in the state participated in the tournaments. This was the last of the five biggest tournaments in Sacramento, which are run through the Sacramento Parks Department.

The actual tennis season will start in the spring. The first day of practice will be February 1st and matches start the first week of March. The season will last three months and, hopefully, they will put on a great performance. Last year the team ended the season with a record of 11-7 (7-5 league) which put them into third place.

If you would like to be a part of this team, then see Coach Dave Brooks. The more players show up, the more attention will be given to the tennis team.

New youth commission named

Six of group's seven members come from RC

Youth Commissioners

Ever heard of the West Sacramento Youth Commission? If your answer is no, then you are not alone. The Youth Commission, a subsidiary of the Department of Parks and Recreation, is a commission established by the City of West Sacramento to allow youth to participate in city government and give their input.

On October 17, the new term of the new Youth Commission began. With three new members, the Youth Commission shows a lot of diversity. Among the items discussed at the meeting were ideas for program publicity, a teen heroes program, and setting up a master calendar of goals.

Six of the seven-member commission come from River City High School: Rishi Sharma, 10th grade; Christina Harmon, 10th grade; Phillip Bennie, 11th grade; Andrea Alcanter, 10th grade; Sara Covert, 10th grade; and Francis Holman, 9th grade. The other member, Denise Lee, is in the 8th grade at Golden State Middle School. At the meeting, Rishi Sharma was elected Chairperson, and Christina Harmon was elected Vice Chairperson.

The Youth Commission hears most items before they go to the City Council, and gives its opinion on the issues. The Youth Commission participates in several activities, including a Buddy Day with city department chairs, and a joint meeting with the City Council.

The Youth Commission has recently started a program called Teen Heroes. This program is a youth volunteer program in West Sacramento. Teens participate in various city programs. It is coordinated by the Youth Commission and all teens are encouraged to join.

The Youth Commission urges all youth of West Sacramento to come and share their opinions. The Youth Commission meets on the third Tuesday of every month at 6:30 p.m. in the City Council Chambers located at 2101 Stone Blvd. For more information on the Youth Commission, call 373-5860.

of the game: Angel Cardenas and Abel Raymundo. Cardenas tore ligaments in his ankle while Raymundo tore ligaments in his knee. Coach Massey's comment was, "It was a little weird, the way they happened, but this is football. Injuries happen all of the time. You should expect things like this to happen in football. They're just freak injuries. It's not that serious."

There had been some talk going on about unfriendly behavior between River City and Dixon that might have had something to do with the injuries. Coach Massey commented, "There are no past experiences with Dixon that had anything to do with the injuries. River City and Dixon are friendly rivals. There is a lot of friendship between the coaching staff."

Interviewed after that game, Angel Cardenas saw it this way, "I caught an interception and as I tried to go out of bounds, some guys tackled me and came down on my ankle. I was supposed to be out for the rest of the seaso, but I'll only stay out for about three weeks." Fortunately, Angel's prediction came to pass.

Abel Raymundo seemed like he would miss the rest of the season, but now it seems as if he might be back before the end of the season.

The following week River City faced off against Vanden High School at Vanden. Unfortunately; the Raiders lost 48-6. River City bounced back and did a remarkable job against the Lincoln Zebras, defeating them with a score of 36-8. That was the Raiders' first league game and they were then 3-1(1-0 league).

Angel Cardenas made his return against the Bear River Bruins. This game was a well fought-battle, but the score didn't show that. The final score was Bear River 28 and River City 0.

River City played their first and only Saturday game of the regular season against the Encina Bulldogs. This game came down to a final field goal attempt by Encina, to tie, but it was blocked by the Raiders' Sam Savala. The final score was 22-19 RC, with the Raiders' record at 4-2(2-1 league).

In the homecoming match against the Colfax Falcons, RC had a 21-7 lead with three minutes remaining in the game. Before you knew it, the score was 21-21. A 76-yard touchdown pass to Jimmy Timas was the last score of the game and RC advanced to 5-2(3-1 league).

So far it's an exciting season for the Raiders football team. Their chances of advancing to the playoffs are very good.

It's not O.J.–it's better:

Mock trial seeks local lawyer to help hone team's courtroom skills

River City's Mock Trial Team will again be competing in the Annual Law Related Education Conference competition. The competition will be held during the first week of February at the Sacramento County Courthouse.

The team will be organizing both prosecution and defense for a criminal case which they will present against four of the other 23 high schools that are competing. The student lawyers and witnesses will begin their long road to the courthouse in earnest when they receive the official case for this year's competition on October 25th.

Students will be practicing every day after school and often on Saturdays and vacations. The hard work pays off, however; River City's Mock Trial Team is always in the top ten and often in the top five schools of the competition.

Mr. Mesquita, the team's teacher/coach, says that this year's team has the potential to go all the way to the finals,"if we work hard and dedicate ourselves to winning." Mr. Mesquita states that one of the critical components to the success of the team has been the cooperation of lawyers from the Sacramento District Attorneys Office, who have spent time with the students to help them prepare.

Mr. Mesquita says,"It would be great for our students if someone from the community would take an interest in this activity. The students are all great kids who work hard and would really appreciate the coaching and concern of a local attorney." Anyone interested please contact Mr.Mesquita at River City High School, 371-0700.

Future engineer is Raider of the Month

By Mirthala Santizo
Staff Writer

September's Raider of the Month, Michael Vasquez, is currently a senior and involved in many things in and out of school. He's in the Academic Enrichment class and hopes to get on the Academic Decathlon team at the varsity level. Michael's favorite subject is math and he likes to help other people with it. Michael likes math because he wants a career in engineering. He wants to be a civil engineer or a math engineer. He plans to get into U.C. Davis or Sac State and if it doesn't work out, he'll go to a junior college and then transfer to U.C. Berkeley.

Michael has enjoyed his years at River City. "It's been all right," he said. "I learned a lot of stuff." His classes are English 121, Math Analysis, Teachers Assistance for Mrs. Higgins, Chemistry, Government, and Academic Enrichment.

Michael doesn't only do extracurricular activities in school, but also out of school. Michael volunteers at Club West, where he helps out students from Golden State Middle School or River City. He helps them by setting up their dances, haunted house, and many other events. He also practices his dancing (which is considered hip-hop) and has performed at different places including the Multicultural Club dance at River City. He likes all of music including oldies, slow jams, and rap.

Michael also plays many sports with his friends, but his favorite sport is basketball. "We play whatever sport is for that season," he said, "but we play basketball most of the time." He also likes going to different cities with his friends.

30 years & still going. . . and going

By Mirthala Santizo
Staff Writer

Mr. Engoron, River City's English and drama teacher, has been chosen by the students to be Staff of the Month. Mr. Engoron has been working for Washington Unified School District for 30 years and for River City High School for 29 years. He's one of the teachers who has been here the longest. Mr. Engoron started teaching here when this school was called James Marshall High School. Although he currently teaches English 121, TRAM, Drama and Honors English 10, he has taught many other subjects in the past including all levels of English, Drama, TRAM, French, Senior Seminar and science. Mr. Engoron believes that all programs could be expanded. "All subjects are important and should be equally weighted," he said. One thing that he would like to see is the drama department get a theater for his plays.

Mr. Engoron speaks four different languages: English, French, Latin and German. He also speaks a little bit of Italian. Engoron has been involved in many plays at local community theaters, but is no longer in them. He has dedicated his time to directing school plays. This year's play is a comedy called The Nerd, which will be put on this spring.

Some of the things that Mr. Engoron likes are chocolate, his dogs and traveling. He likes chocolate because it's sensuous and has a great flavor. Although he doesn't eat a lot now, he still loves to make chocolate desserts. "Many people think that it is sexy," he said. "It's one of the few decadent things you can do in life and still be legal about it."

Teacher of the Month Roy Engoron in the '70s (inset) and now, showing off the smile students love

Mr Engoron's dogs (his boys) names are Watson, Seymour, and Holmes. His dogs go through 80 pounds of dog food a week and go for three walks a day.

Mr. Engoron has traveled to many places. Some of his favorite places are England, the British Isles, France, Austria, and Morocco.

Mr. Engoron is happy that he was chosen to be September's Staff of the Month. "I would like to thank everyone for voting for me," he said. "It's a great way to start out this year."

HIV/Peer educator Chrissy Senna is September Raider of the Month

By Mirthala Santizo
Staff Writer

Chrissy Senna, a senior who does many extracurricular activities for our school, is September's Raider of the Month. She is currently involved in Link Crew, French Club and Renaissance, and is an HIV/AIDS Peer Educator. Chrissy likes to educate teens on protection and abstinence. "Everyone needs to be educated," said Chrissy, "and the number of AIDS patients need to go down instead of up."

Besides being involved in extracurricular activities inside of school, Chrissy also works after school. She has been working at Kentucky Fried Chicken for about a year and is now being trained to be an assistant manager.

Chrissy has a lot of memories from the years here at River City. "The people here are really friendly," she said, "and they're easy to get along with." She also likes the teachers because they are nice and they care about every student's future.

Chrissy's best memory here is the Senior Walk, Class of '96. Chrissy plans to go to a junior college for a couple of years and then transfer to San Diego State University. Chrissy will also be working through college. She plans to be a social worker after graduating from college because she wants to help families with problems.

Chrissy likes to hang out with her friends and listen to country music. Her favorite food is -surprise- Kentucky Fried chicken.

The varsity volleyball team has done better than any other recent volleyball team. The goal for this year was to beat last year's record, that is to win one match. The team has surpassed that goal. So far, the volleyball team has won eight matches and lost eleven. Their league record is one and six.

There are three co-captains: Celina Flores, Wendy Wickliffe, and Anna Vierra, head captain. Celina Flores says, "The team is really working together this year."

There are three more games left with one being a home game. The last home game on November 2 is against Encina. Coach Costanza says, "I will guarantee a win against them. I have that much confidence in them." So come out and support the volleyball team at their last game.

By Kristy Guerra

This semester's Renaissance Members got cookies or chips and a soda at lunch recently. The purpose was "to influence other students to join" and "to reward the Renaissance students for their achievements," said Shelly Taunk, a six-semester Renaissance scholar.

The 120 students in Renaissance also received "Hard Work Cafe" t-shirts to signify their membership. Hopefully, this will encourage more students to join and to try harder in school.

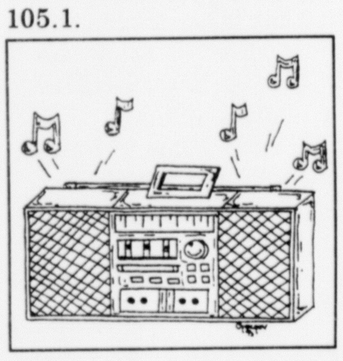
KSFM Radio tops them all

By Fouzia Fazel
Staff Writer

Why is KSFM River City's favorite radio station? A poll of 189 students revealed that 37% of River City students favor KSFM over any other station."KSFM plays sweet, funky and tight music. That's why everybody listens to it," stated Senior Julio Gomez.
"Plus Trejo is on during the night," he added.

The poll also revealed that 10% of students favor KRCX 99.9 and 7% favor KWOD 106.5. Among other favorites are COOL 101.1, 106.1 KMEL and KNCI 105.1.



When asked what kind of music they favored, most students named rap and hip hop. River City's second favorite type of music is R&B, while country and alternative tied for third. Old Skool and love songs came in fourth.

Our school's favorite artist/group is Boyz II Men. Selena came in second, followed by Michael Jackson. Fourth place is shared by the Luniz and the Wu-Tang-Clan. Among other favorites are Baby Face, Green Day, Rick Trevino and Ice Cube.

Only 16% of River City students said that the music they listen to influences the way they dress.

More than pumpkins & candy

By Carolina Avina
Staff Writer

"Trick-or-treat, smell my FEET. Give me something good to eat. If you don't, I don't care, I'll pull down your UNDERWEAR." The Halloween tradition has evolved into so many different traditions and meanings since it first was practiced in America, that people hardly know what its meaning is.

Back in the days when the Pilgrims first came on the Mayflower wearing funny tights and "dorky" looking hats, Halloween did not exist. In fact, Halloween was not practiced in the United States until about two hundred years later. So if we didn't start the Halloween tradition, who did?

The name Halloween means the evening before All Hallows or All Saints Day which is on November 1. The traditions or customs go all the way back to ancient times and 3,400 miles across the Atlantic Ocean to Europe. It was originally a religious observance. The people called Druids, the Celts and people in parts of Scotland believed it was the time when the souls of the dead rose from the ground and walked among the living. The sinful souls of those who died during the year had been relegated to the bodies of animals. The people felt obligated to give gifts and offer sacrifices to free the souls so they could claim a heavenly reward.

When The Irish migrated to America in 1840 because of the potato famine, America then adopted the holiday and it became part of American tradition.

So why do we dress up in funny costumes and go around begging for candies? There are various explanations depending on what part of Europe we are looking at. In some of the European villages poor children used to parade around towns, from house to house begging for any small offering people might give them. In return the children promised to fast or pray for the souls of those who had passed away in their lives.

Another explanation comes from the tradition during medieval times of displaying the relics of saints on All Hallows Day. The poor churches could not offer such fancy costumes, so instead the people from the churches, kids and adults, dressed as ghouls and devils and they paraded around their back yard.

The "trick" part of "trick-or-treat" was created by this country when the night before Halloween was known as Mischief Night. Mischief Night is the belief that ghosts and fairies roam the roads on Halloween night. Any practical joke could thus be blamed on these creatures whom people could not control.

On this night people had the chance to fool around and play tricks on other people. Gates were untied and hidden, ropes stretched across roads in the dark, outhouses were overthrown, bags of powder spilled on porches, and whatever they could think of they would do.

We could then say that Halloween can be translated as,"Give me candy or get your house t.p.'d."

Today, Halloween, even though it has somewhat lost its religious meaning, has developed into a more artistic event. Costumes range from the traditional witch to the new Mighty Morphin Power Rangers.

Halloween has also become more dangerous. Adults must now worry about their children getting kidnapped, run over by a car, or maybe poisoned by a neighbor with their treats.

Halloween will continue to be a holiday to acknowledge the dead and to fear the ghosts and goblins roaming around. But we must now remember to have a safe one as well as a fun one. Hope you had a happy and safe Halloween.

If we didn't start the Halloween tradition, then who did?

25 students attend CADA conference, come back inspired

By Judith Zaragoza
Staff Writer

25 members of the Student Council leadership class attended with their advisor Susan Johnson a CADA (California Association of Directors of Activities) Conference, October 3rd, at Woodland's fairgrounds. River City students gathered new ideas and activities for students.

Attending with about 15,000 students from Northern California inspired River City students to try exciting new things. The students had lunch accompanied by a D.J. Mrs. Johnson said, "There was a lot of fun, and all the students were dancing."

Senior Rhapsody Flores said, "It was really good. We learned how to get involved in school activities, fundraisers and how to have spirit for your class." There was much exchange of ideas on making school activities more exciting and getting all students to participate in them. Mrs. Johnson has seen year after year an improvement in our rallies, poster making and spirit week, and this conference will no doubt inspire more improvement.

The Student Council is starting to organize new activities such as "air bands" which are a different kind of competition. Leadership students want to organize a "Red Ribbon Week" which represents the fight against substance abuse.

Zerguy Maazouddin, senior, said, "It was worth going to the conference [to get] ideas...new ways to do things."

Mrs. Johnson also had a chance to exchange ideas with other advisors. She said, "The conference was great."

Sage advice for freshman: prepare for graduation now

Dear Freshpeople,

Congratulations! You're finally here! High school, the greatest four years of your life so far. And here is a simple question. How do you want your senior year to be? Fun? Exciting? Memorable? Well here's a wake-up call, guys!! Unless you prepare now your senior year is going to be a drag.

Being in high school is very overwhelming and it takes all first quarter to realize that it is very serious. First quarter is the hardest because you're meeting new people and seeing old friends. Preparing for Homecoming and playing sports takes hours of practice. And then there's another float meeting!

Well.... here's a hint. Don't let all the commotion get to you. Concentrate on your studies rather than your social life. Education is more important than Homecoming or sports. Take care of your education now, so that your senior year you can go to all of your float meetings, practices, and other social events. Senior year isn't very fun when you're taking seven classes, working thirty hours a week, and going to night school. All this is just to graduate on time, and it kinda' puts a crimp in your social life.

So prepare now, freshmen, because the hard work is just beginning. Graduation is a reward for thirteen years of hard work. So make it worth it when you walk across that stage and receive your key to the door of opportunity and life!
Sincerely,
Kristy Moyer

The City of West Sacramento Community Development Department and the Redevelopment Agency are the proponents of the Specific Plan which includes a detailed development program, urban design guidelines, and an implementation program for the 140-acre Plan Area. The Plan Area, also known as the Broderick Reuse Area, includes the Raley's Landing Project site and the site of the proposed One Riverfront plaza project. The development program envisions about 1,300 new multi-family residential units, about 2.5 million square feet of new office space, and about 187,000 square feet of new retail commercial use over the next 20 years. The purpose of the public hearing is to accept comments from the public and the Commission on the Draft EIR for incorporation into the Final EIR. TAYLOR from page 1

Westvik's opinion that the people moved into higher positions are well-qualified, but that a less disruptive change would have been preferable.

Both Westvik and Candee suggested that Taylor's position could have been filled by Lucille Barba, currently the Categorical Programs Coordinator. Barba is a twenty-five year district employee who, because of her current position, is already familiar with the large array of categorical programs functioning in the district.

The director of categorical programs is responsible for overseeing and seeking funding for about 16 special district programs. Among them are programs for disadvantaged children, parent education, preschool and English as a Second Language.

One will take place on Wednesday, November 1, from 9 to 11 a.m. at Sam Coombs Center, 205 Stone Blvd.; the other will be held on Wednesday, November 15, from 9 to 11 a.m. at the West Sacramento Senior Center, 664 Cummins Way.

The 1995-96 influenza vaccine provides protection against A/Texas, A/Johannesburg, and B/Beijing. Persons allergic to eggs should not be given the flu shot. Charges for immunizations are $4 for the flu shot (given every year); $8 for Pneumovax (given one time only); and $10 for TD (given every ten years).

Beginning this year, if you belong to an HMO (Health Maintenance Organization), you must go to your doctor for your shots. If, however, you choose to come to the clinic, you will have to pay. The clinic cannot do the billing.

THE NEW FALL LINE-UP

Coming for the first time to the City of West Sacramento:

Green Waste
Recycling Joins the Curbside Line-Up

Starting in November, the City of West Sacramento and Waste Management of West Sacramento will introduce a whole new way to recycle, right at your curb.

You've been recycling newspapers and containers through your curbside collection program.

Now, you can also recycle "Green Waste".

Soon you will receive a new 64-gallon cart.

- Use the new 64-gallon cart for household garbage.
- Use your existing 30-gallon containers for Green Waste. (These are the same containers you used to use for garbage.)
- Continue to recycle cans, glass and plastic, and newspapers in the two green recycling bins.

OK. But What's Green Waste?

Green Waste IS:

- Grass and weed clippings
- Shrub and tree prunings
- Leaves

Green Waste IS NOT:

- Garbage mixed with Green Waste
- Ashes, cardboard, dirt, diseased plants, fibrous plants such as cactus, ice plant, ivy and palm leaves (fronds), fruit and vegetables from trees and gardens, glass, hazardous waste, household garbage, metal, other recyclables, paper, pet waste, plastic, poison oak debris, over sized prunings and rocks, Styrofoam, treated or painted wood, tree stumps.

Questions? Call us at 373-5810 or call Waste Management of West Sacramento at 374-2700. We'll get you answers.

A panel of experts will be on hand to provide landlords and property managers with helpful information at a free workshop on Thursday, November 16, between 3 and 5 p.m. at the senior citizens center, 664 Cummins Way, West Sacramento.

The workshop, entitled "Your Rights and Responsibilities as a Landlord or Property Manager," will include information helpful in the day-to-day management of housing units. The panel, including a lawyer, property manager and enforcement officials, will speak on topics including:

How to find good tenants and handle complaints; how to protect yourself against discrimination charges; how to process an eviction; and how to keep a clean and well-managed complex, and more.

To find the senior center, take Jefferson Blvd., north past the intersection with Sacramento Ave. where Jefferson becomes Kegle St. Continue north on Kegle to Cummins Way and turn right to the senior center.

For more information, call Mary Shearer, West Sacramento Redevelopment Agency, at 373-5843, or Deotha Chapman, Fair Housing consultant, at 373-5895.

Report from RCHS: spirit is still high

By Tony Venditti
Commissioner of Publicity
River City High School

"River City's Homecoming was a great success," according to Dr. Donna White, our school's principal. And it was, beginning with each class' "Spirit Day."

You wouldn't have guessed that the freshmen were starting their first year of high school; they showed more spirit than freshman from previous years. We were proud to have such spirited newcomers to our campus.

The "mighty sophomores" did 100 percent better than last year, with about ten times as many people. Their class color, which is orange, discouraged many of the sophomores last year, but this year their spirit shined through.

The juniors did an excellent job of decorating the quad on Wednesday, including a particular poster showing a picture of Simba from "The Lion King" which read, "I love the Class of '97."

The seniors showed us all up, with an overpowering flood of enthusiasm. There wasn't one inch of the quad not decorated with purple.

The penny drive was won by the seniors, with a grand total of $391.50 in pennies! Spirit Day fell also to the seniors along with the Community Day Parade float trophy for 1st place. The float that won 1st place at River City was the juniors, with a giant Raider Lion stomping a Colfax Falcon. The seniors took second place with a huge purple Cobra; freshman took third, with a green dinosaur eating a Colfax Falcon; and the sophomores took fourth with a gigantic butterfly gracefully flying over the R.C endzone. Unity Day was won by the sophomores, who did an excellent job of decorating and cheering.

The junior varsity football team lost that night, but the varsity team won 28 to 21 in a very exciting fourth quarter against Colfax.

The Homecoming dance was on a Saturday for the first time with a record attendance, probably due to the announcing of royalty at the dance. The quad was decorated with zillions of twinkly lights, which gave the quad a romantic atmosphere. Many students didn't like the increased price, but the new disc jockey and elaborate decorations were worth it.

Homecoming '95 was a great time here at River City. Everybody got together, first in self-competition, then in unity, which is the most important thing of all. The spirit is there and will be, forever.
